SCHOOL, HOME, AND WORK

We of the Modulus staff publish this yearbook with the purpose of establishing a record of our high school life and preserving the pleasant memories of the acquaintances and classes we have enjoyed. Through both the written word and the printed picture we can recall vividly freshman greenie days, cold nights at Kriegbaum Field, long classroom hours, messy chemistry experiments, interesting auditorium programs, senior play humor, sectional basketball excitement, and the crowning glory of commencement as we examine this 1961 MODULUS.

COMPLETE OUR BUSY DAY

Seniors Dave Lyons, Ron Jutton, and Rose Paoletto, work with the card catalog as Emily Carlson types a composition for junior English. Myra Manis delivers a speech in her sophomore class while a panel of five freshmen discusses a study novel.

ENGLISH STRESSES SELF - EXPRESSION

English, three years of which are required for graduation, plays a large part in the lives of all Huntington High School students. During the required freshman, sophomore and junior years, composition and literature are stressed, while during the elective senior year, English literature and senior composition are the main courses studied.

A special course for college-bound juniors is also offered. In these classes special emphasis is placed on paragraph development, sentence structure, research papers and compositions of various types. Vocabulary and classical reading are also stressed throughout the year in all the classes.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE PROMOTES GOOD-WILL

Language, an elective course in Huntington High School, consisted of three languages this school year: Latin, French and Spanish.

The importance of language was intensified each day. Knowledge of a language will gain greater success for the student in his future. It will give him more confidence to face what lies ahead.

Steve Divelbiss, Barbara Eskew, Mike Shumaker, and Sara Burns lead the class in a Spanish song.

Mrs. Hillegas displays some of her souvenirs from her trip to Europe.

SCIENCE OPENS NEW WORLDS

Even girls enjoy dissecting animals in biology class!

The HHS science department, headed by Robert Diffenbaugh, is the breeding ground for possible scientists of the future. The other teachers in this field are Richard Goshorn and Glen Hummer. These men represent a fine collection of instructional talent in teaching chemistry, physics and biology.

Under the National Education Program much new equipment is continually being added to the science facilities.

This department is making advances every year towards building a stronger and safer America.

MATHEMATICS IMPROVES REASONING

The Mathematics Department of Huntington High School has an efficient program geared to the needs of freshman class through senior class. Since each student is required to take one year of mathematics, either general mathematics or algebra I was recommended.

For college-bound students five advanced courses are available. Included are plane and solid geometry, trigonometry and college and second year algebra. From these classes the students acquire necessary credits toward graduation, as well as preparation for college and the challenges of the Space Age.

The basic facts of surveying are confusing to Bill as Diane, Chris, Pam, Charles, David, and Jeff carry out their trigonometry experiment.

SOCIAL STUDIES ENCOURAGE DEMOCRACY

To graduate from Huntington High School each student is required to complete two years of social studies.

United States History is offered basically for juniors and civics, sociology or economics are taught for those in the senior year. World History is an elective course which, if desired, may be taken at any time during the four years of high school.

In these social studies courses the students learned about the development of the world and our own country, the functions of the U.S. government, business fundamentals and voting procedures.

During Election Week, in order to learn voting procedures, all social studies classes held mock elections and balloted for the presidential candidates.

Students in all the social studies courses are encouraged to read books and magazines on current events. Term papers are required from college-bound students.

In February, juniors and seniors with high social studies grades visited the Indiana Statehouse to witness government in action.

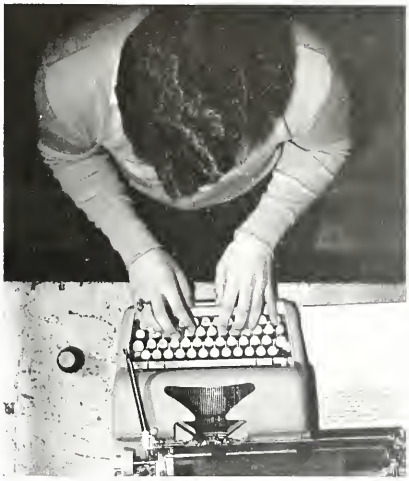
Mary Ann and Dean display a sociology chart to social studies students.

Mary Ann Marks, David Lewis, Susie Harris, George Boh, Barbara Eskew, Jeff Tollinger, and Dian Roberts participated on the VFW television show "Communism Looks at Youth."

Nixon won in HHS elections, held to instruct students in the principles of voting.

BUSINESS PROVIDES PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Janet and Dianne operate the mimeograph machine.



A complete mastery of the keyboard gives this student a fast typing speed.

The HHS business department offers typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, general business, commercial law, advanced shorthand, notehand, business arithmetic and transcription to students interested in the field. Doing work in the production room was one of the department's main projects.

Several pieces of new equipment were added to the business room this year including several typewriters.

The notehand course was offered to college-bound students for the first time this year. Popular typing courses are given during the summer.

Huntington High's business department offers advanced training for secretarial and clerical work in filing, dictation, and tape recorder use in addition to the usual shorthand course. The department's placement service found permanent and desirable positions for all the business graduates this year.

MUSIC DEEPENS APPRECIATION

The HHS music department proudly completed another successful year. Our band, directed by Delmar Weesner and Norris Huston, performed at grade schools and in various contests. Adding color to football games, the drum majors and high-stepping Vikettes led the band in impressive precision marching. A spring concert climaxed their musical accomplishments.

The choir and its branch organizations, under the leadership of Cloyde Slater, gained helpful experience from a one-day tour. The sextette and swing choir sang before clubs and church organizations, and a new quintette made its first appearance at the final concert on May 18.

We would all like to thank these people for providing us with fine music throughout the school year.

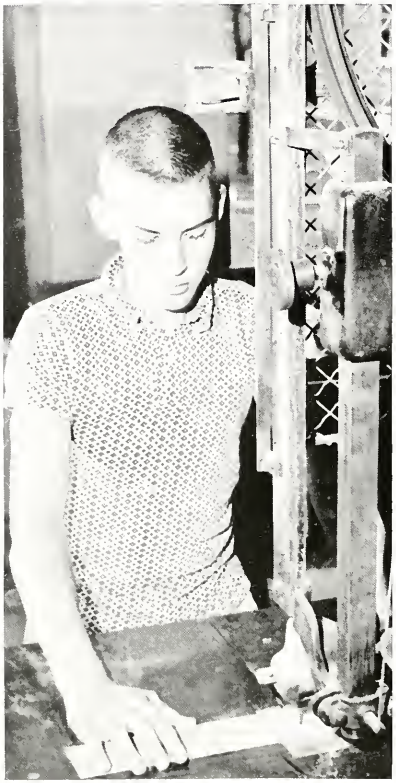
ART DEVELOPS CREATIVE ABILITIES

Art is a four-year course for those wishing to major in it.

This year the art department moved from Room 209 to Room 212. Miss Verna Oyer, head of the department, felt that the students enjoyed the new atmosphere.

Art students work on paintings, sculpture, mobiles, posters, and ceramics, as they improve their skills. Some of the artwork was displayed at a P.T.A. meeting.

HOME EC AND INDUSTRIAL ARTS ENRICH OUR TALENTS



Cutting wood for a shop project.

Industrial art courses are offered to all those interested in learning trades which involve metal and wood machinework, printing, carpentry, and mechanical drawing.

Because those taking shop were given no awards, a display of their projects was set up in the halls during Achievement Week.

Hugh Brown was in charge of mechanical drawing; Edward Burke, woodwork; and Homer Carl, machine shop and printing.

The home economics department is very important to those who desire further training in homemaking. Various courses of study such as food preparation, sewing, home management, home nursing and child care are offered in this department.

The girls who took home economics this year learned a great deal. They all agreed that their past experiences in class will be valuable in the future.

Sally Reese expertly sews a seam.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDS BODIES

The girls' physical education department offers a wide variety of activities including bowling, swimming, tennis, softball, archery, volleyball, basketball and folk, square and modern dancing.

Many intramural tournaments prevailed during the year as well as interscholastic competition. All these activities provided healthful recreation and taught good sportmanship.

The boys' physical education department offered swimming and gym this year. Swimming involved courses in beginning, intermediate and advanced swimming. The advance courses included junior lifesaving instruction.

AWARDS AND SCHOLARSHIPS ARE WELL EARNED

Outstanding students annually receive scholarships to various institutions of higher learning. This year proved to be no exception.

Nineteen State, local, and national scholarships were received this year by fourteen students to eight different colleges and universities. Among the schools were Purdue University, Huntington College, Ball State Teachers College, Parkview Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Manchester College, Evansville College, and Indiana University.

In the Indiana University High School Achievement Contest Finals five HHS students participated in English, Latin, and Spanish. A silver medal and two honorable mention awards were earned in English.

GAA awards were also presented to several girls. Among the awards were sweaters and State plaques.

Top: G.A.A. award winners were Diane Seashols, Mary Ann Tipmore, Suzy Wasmuth, Janelle Wiley, and Mutsuko Fukuda.

David Lewis, Jeffry Tollinger, and Jerome Drew were National Merit Finalists.

Scholarships were presented to eleven seniors. First row: Pam Yarger and Ann Winegardner; Second row: Diana Bonewitz and Dian Roberts; Third row: Jon Mickley, David Lewis, and Darlene Foster: Fourth row: Earl Stricker, Bob Farrar, Jerome Drew, and Jeff Tollinger.

Indiana University High School Achievement Program contestants were David Lewis, Mary Ann Marks, Anne Meier, Emily Carlson, and Ann Schaeffer.

Senior Honor Society members included the following: First row: Dian Roberts, Susie Doerscher, Darlene Foster, Vicki Barnhisel, Gwen Durflinger, Suzy Wasmuth, and Pam Yarger.
Second row: Pam Ridgeway, Mary Ann McNamee, Mary Ann Eisenhauer, Judy Casper, Mary Beth Shutt, Ann Winegardner, and Diana Bonewitz.
Third row: Patty Cook, Diane Seashols, Susie Petrucelle, and Jane Smith.
Fourth row: Joe Dolby, John Thomas, Jeff Tollinger, and David Lewis.

HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS ARE CITED

Membership into the National Honor Society is based on leadership, character and scholarship. To become a member of the society a student must be in the upper twenty-five per cent of his class.

Fifteen per cent of the senior class is chosen for the society, and five percent is taken from the junior class.

Seniors vote on senior selections and juniors vote on junior selections; then the rating points are totaled. For the final results a committee composed of Harold S. Johnson, the junior and senior sponsors, the Sunshine sponsors, the two deans, the Modulus sponsor, the coaches, the girls' athletic director and the Masque and Gavel sponsor considers the result of the voting and gives an approval.

At the annual breakfast in Lagro State Park on May 22 the Senior Honor Society was host to the Junior Honor Society.

K.B.F. AND ROTARY HONOR OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

This year eight members of the senior class were chosen to receive the Kiwanis Builds Forever awards. These eight students excelled scholastically and were in the top five percent of the class.

The K.B.F. winners and their parents were the guests of the Kiwanians at a luncheon during senior week.

Each month of the school year the Huntington Rotary Club chooses an outstanding senior boy from not only Huntington High, but also Huntington College and Huntington Catholic, to be honored as Junior Rotarian. The Junior Rotarians attended weekly luncheons given by the club.

GUIDANCE BOASTS WISE COUNSELING

The guidance services at HHS are intended to assist students in college and vocational planning and in the preparation of their academic programs in order that they may take advantage of their potential and the opportunities provided by their school. The guidance personnel are located in the Guidance Center under the direction of Charles Kaufman.

Guidance counselors meet with each student at least twice each year, but students are encouraged to seek their counselors whenever they need assistance.

Deans for the 1960-61 school year were Mrs. Geraldine Miller and Bruce Gerdes. Their duties included checking absentees, compiling absentee lists, issuing tardy and absence slips and taking care of any other attendance problems.

Class guidance counselors were Robert Diffenbaugh, Mrs. Bernice Hillegas, Ed Burke and Ivan Wilhelm.

Charles Kaufman discusses scholarship opportunities with a senior.

Mrs. Geraldine Miller and Bruce Gerdes were Dean of Girls and Dean of Boys.

Attendance helpers and guidance office secretaries were Mary Ann McNamee, Patty Jo Thompson, Susie Doerscher, Glenda Oxley, Gwen Durflinger, Sherril MacDonald, Janet Riggers, Jane Smith, Vicki Barnhisel, Martha Gee and Beth Shutt.

Sports at Huntington High School are offered on an extracurricular basis. Through active participation in them, the individual gains sportsmanship, teamwork, and a source of recreation.

Second row: Ricky Hahnert, Bill Circle, James Kaltenmark, Joe Dolby, Frank Bowman, Roger Carroll, Steve Allen, Davie Reeves, Mark Shenefield, Jim Landis, Bob Minniear, and Oscar Naab.
Third row: Harry Schenkel, Jim Schaeffer, Tom Wardrop, Dave Funk, Dave Shearer, Jay Stout, Dave Proffitt, Bob Johnson, Ray Sandlin, Gerald Alspach, Robert Straight, and Ivan Wilhelm.

VIKES CELEBRATE PERFECT SEASON!

Of all the long-awaited dreams of every football coach and football fan, the one most desired, worked for and hoped for is a spectacular season. That dream came true for the Huntington Vikings in their 1960 season. The Vikes, led on by their talented coach, Jerry Huntsman, posted a record of nine wins, one tie and no losses. This in itself was a great sporting achievement, but in addition to that fine job in the victory department, the Vikes allowed just one opponent to cross the Norse goal line, making a total of only seven points scored against them.

A season like this is indeed one to be proud of, and we are sure that all Viking fans and the Vikes themselves will never forget it. Of course, it could not have been done without the essentials of superior coaching, concentrated teamwork, desire to win and adherence to principles. No team can hope to succeed unless these fundamentals are a part of their lives.

Thus it is with great pride, affection and gratitude that we say to the Vikings of 1960, "Congratulations for a magnificent job well done."

VIKE CAGERS TAKE TWIN CROWNS!

Following the star-studded capers of the football squad came a crew of rather hopeful but unexciting cagers. The first three games seemed to clinch the team's future on the hardcourt for some local and foreign pessimists, but things got better as the season progressed, and the Vikes racked up a total of 17 wins and 10 losses in regularly scheduled play. All through the season, the fans around town had high hopes for the Norsemen, but something was lacking. Little did we know the unbelievable outcome that was to follow.

Sectional fever hit Huntington with its usual parades, caravans, banners, posters, and other festivities. Community Gym was ablaze with lights and hot net-swishing for four nights and three afternoons in late February. The Vikings, seeking to repeat their performance of last year, whipped each of their opponents and advanced to the finals on Saturday night.

Up against the surprisingly strong Roanoke Stonewalls for the championship, the Vikes fell behind and stayed there all during the game. The Stonewalls were in complete control until the last eight seconds of the last period, when Huntington finally put on the steam and tied the score. With two seconds remaining on the clock, Kent Paul launched the ball from twenty feet out, and it miraculously swished the net to make the Huntington Vikings the Sectional champs for 1960-1961!

Sectional victory overcomes Kent Paul as the team smiles.

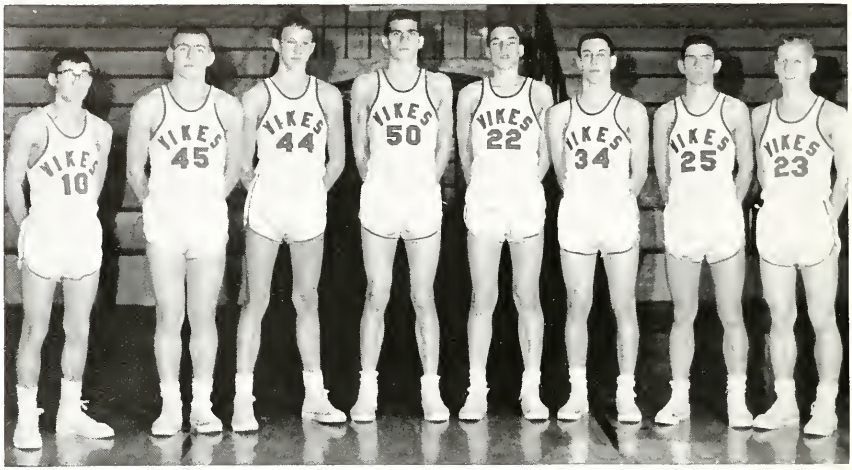
DETERMINED VIKINGS CRASH REGIONAL!

Advancing to the Regionals, the Vikes and a huge crowd of HHS supporters invaded Marion's Memorial Coliseum on March 4. Full of spirit and ready for any and all comers, the Norsemen quickly dispatched Dunkirk in the afternoon, 69-56. Then, as the fans cheered wildly from the sidelines, they dumped stubborn Bluffton 70-59 in the finals that night. For the first time in 14 years the Sea Rovers had captured the regional crown.

In the semi-state activities, the Vikes at last met their nemesis as they battled mighty Kokomo, the eventual State champs. The defeat was tempered by the Norses' earlier victories and not too many observers were surprised at the ending of the game. But the Vikes gave all they had and there was no cause to feel ashamed. They had brought to HHS the kind of thrills and entertainment that had been missing recently, and a glory not to be forgotten.

Mixed emotions are evident in the cheer block at the Regional.

HHS Vikings—Regional victors!



RAIDERS MEET SUCCESS

The followers of that great, old Norse King, Scyld, once a Viking king, earned themselves a fine reputation as a "go-get-'em" gang of fighters. Under the direction of Coach Jerry Huntsman, the boys compiled a slate of fourteen victories and only four losses. Looking to the future, the Raiders will undoubtedly be valuable to Coach Bob Straight to work—and win—with. The training they receive as "B"-teamers will be of great help to them when they make the varsity and stack up the victories.

FROSH IMITATE VARSITY

Rough and ready for every foe, the "greenies" under Coach Paul Buzzard showed great promise on the hard court. The next three years look encouraging if the frosh cagers maintain their spirit and skill. As Raiders they should gain the poise and stamina needed to perform well.

Freshmen Mike Weaver and Mike Shumaker found berths on the Viking bench this year and next season will no doubt see many more improving freshmen joining the varsity.

Basketball student managers were Bill Circle, Ricky Hahnert, and John Mason.

Raider cheerleaders were Patty Altman, Connie Shafer, and Mary Baker.

TRACK AND CROSS-COUNTRY BRING MORE GLORIES

Bad weather and frequent injuries kept the Viking tracksters from a better season, but all in all they did a fine job. Depending heavily on the younger members of the team, Coach Jerry Huntsman experimented with his cindermen to find the winning combinations. Finishing fifth in the Sectional, the Norse thinlies sent senior pole vaulter Roger Carroll to the Regional.

VIKING BASEBALL SQUAD ENJOYS GOOD SEASON

With the coming of spring, Coach Ivan Wilhelm shook the mothballs out of his hair, rounded up several bats, balls and gloves, and held try-outs for the 1961 Viking baseball team. Everything was all set, but the weather plagued the baseball team just as it did track, golf and tennis. Several games were postponed and one had to be cancelled.

The highlight of the season came when senior Ken Troxell, powerful hurler, pitched a beautiful shut-out against Decatur. He was awarded a coveted shut-out trophy by Coach Wilhelm.

TURFMEN MEET STIFF COMPETITION

Huntington High School duffers took a bad season on the chin and compiled a record of two wins and seven losses. Coach Dale Ware had his problems with his young team and the weather as usual. Team members below are Bill Smart, Mike Seashols, Gary Dilly, Dale Ware, John Repp, Ed Martin, Ed Holmes and Pat Guthier.

TENNIS TEAM FACES TOUGH OPPONENTS, ALSO

Coach Paul Buzzard's tennis team, suffering from the lack of experience, a home court and sunny days, launched their campaign for victories hopefully, but the final standings show two wins and five defeats. Don Draper, Tom Michael, Bob Ross, Bill Goshorn, Terry Bridge, Roger Ross and Dave Kroot should all return to the game in 1962. They are hoping to find adequate home courts in order to arrange more local matches.

First row: Norman Stouder, Terry Bridge, Dave Kroot, Don Draper. Second row: Paul Buzzard, Tom Michael, Bill, Goshorn, Roger Ross, and Bob Ross.

MODULUS STAFF LABORS AGAINST DEADLINES

The long and difficult task of preparing the 1961 Modulus required many months of taking pictures, writing copy, selling subscriptions, soliciting ads, and meeting deadlines. Part of the staff worked for a month in the summer heat to complete the yearbook.

David Lewis, editor-in-chief, was assisted by Mrs. Juanita Young, faculty advisor; Ann Winegardner, copy editor; Gwen Durflinger, business manager; Diane Seashols, subscription manager; and Jerome Drew, advertising manager.

Photographers were Shari Mueller, Lee Trainer, Allan Miller, and David Lewis.

The subscription staff assisting Diane included Patty Weaver, Mary Ann Eisenhauer, Beth Shutt, Susie Wasmuth, and Susie Harris. Jerome was aided in soliciting advertisements by Jane Smith, Rose Paoletto, Mary Ann McNammee, Sharon Lofland, Vicki Barnhisel, and Martha Gee.

The fine pictures of this Modulus were taken and processed by David Lewis, Allan Miller, Lee Trainer, and Shari Mueller of the photographic staff. Judy Stouder and Dian Roberts served as picture editors.

Juniors on the staff were Emily Carlson, assistant editor; Carol Kriegbaum, assistant copy editor; Barbara Eskew, assistant business manager; Douglas LeMaster, assistant advertising manager; and John Repp, assistant sports editor. Hope Helvie designed the yearbook cover.

Copy writers included Pam Ridgeway, Patty Weaver, Anne Meier, Carol Kriegbaum, Sue Slater, Emily Carlson, Diane Seashols, Rose Paoletto, Beth Shutt, June Pegan, Jerry Lewis, Linda Smallwood, Robert Corkhill, Hobart Schacht, Sall Wertenberger, Cathy Raker, Jerome Drew, and Camile Kaylor.

Ann Winegardner and David Lewis work on the large number of pictures required.

Editor-in-chief David Lewis and advisor Mrs. Young supervised pictures, copy, ads, etc.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE SPREADS GOOD WILL

Huntington High's American Field Service foreign exchange student for this year was Mutsuko Fukuda from Utsunomiya, Japan. Mutsuko demonstrated a Japanese dance and a tea ceremony along with her many interesting speeches. She resided with the Dr. Howard Marks family.

During the summer of 1960 David Lewis represented HHS in the AFS program in Norway. He divided the summer activities between two host families.

Huntington was host to AFS bus groups in the summers of 1960 and 1961. Miss Ruth Luther, AFS sponsor, looks forward to continuing this worthwhile program.

Students from many lands were present for HHS International Day. Seated: Pauline O'Sullivan (Jamaica), Joke Holtkamp (Netherlands), Mutsuko Fukuda (AFS-Japan), Maria Hulda Correa-De Oliveira (AFS-Brazil), and Clara Boiardi (AFS-Italy).
Standing: Pam Ridgeway (AFS secretary), Gurbuz Celebi (AFS-Turkey), John Labor (Sierra Leone, South Africa), David Fong (Formosa), Dave Lewis, and Patty Weaver (AFS treasurer).

Actuarie Maintains The Library

This year's Actuarie Club had nineteen members, who were supervised by the sponsor, Miss Carolyn Reynolds. These girls worked daily in the library checking, preparing and sorting books which were used by the students.

Highlighting the year were a fall party and a Christmas party. Also, the girls decorated the Christmas tree, which was placed in the library. The climax of the year was the annual reception in April for the members' mothers.

Officers for the year were Beth Shutt, president; Judy Casper, vice-president; Ruth Minniear, secretary-treasurer.

G.A.A. GIRLS PROVE TO BE GOOD SPORTS

Girls' Athletic Association is an organization open to any girl who earns 100 points in physical education classes for admittance, and 25 points for each of the following years.

Members also are awarded an "H" when they earn 250 points and a state plaque when they earn 350 points. These awards were presented at a banquet last spring.

Officers for the year were Suzy Wasmuth, president; Dianne Howell, vice-president; Connie Shafer, secretary; Rita Killen, treasurer.

A Get-acquainted Breakfast commenced the GAA year of activities. There were two potluck suppers and a trip to Pokagon State Park for tobogganing. In the spring GAA sponsored a trip to the Tulip Festival at Holland, Michigan.

The Huntington GAA hosted the Warsaw GAA at a splash party in the YMCA pool. The year ended with the initiation of thirty-five new members at the annual banquet.

G.A.A. officers and sponsor were Suzy Wasmuth, Ruth Luther, Connie Shafer, Dianne Howell, and Rita Killen.

Student Council members for 1960-1961.

STUDENT COUNCIL RULES FIRMLY, BUT FAIRLY

This year the Student Council functioned well under the leadership of Joe Dolby, president; John Thomas, vice-president; Pam Ridgeway, secretary; and Judy Davis, treasurer. The Council scheduled many worthwhile events in the course of the year, including the American Field Service drive.

The Student Council was composed of 48 members. There was one representative to every 30 students in all freshman homerooms. Two council members from the sophomore, junior and senior homerooms were chosen.

The purpose of the Executive Board was to advise the Student Council and to plan the future Council undertakings. The Board was composed of ten students, representing the four classes, and the four officers of the Student Council.

Student Council officers were Judy Davis, John Thomas, Pam Ridgeway, and Joe Dolby.

SCHOOL MONITORS PATROL THE HALLS

In order to regulate hall traffic during the class periods of the school day, student council members served as hall monitors. Seated at strategic spots in the halls, the monitors checked pass slips and gave directions to visitors.

Hall monitors this year were Ray Shenefield, Judy Thompson, Judy Stouder, Ellen Campbell, Mutsuko Fukuda, Julie Cope, Bill Smart, Anne Meier, Patty Altman, Linda Cussen, Charles Dinkler, Mary Ann Eisenhauer, Susie Harris, John Repp, June Pegan, Sandy Hamilton, Sandy Langston, Sig Gesaman, Roger Carroll, Kathy Shafer, John Bitner, Joan Auer, Susie Petrucelle, Sharon Elick, Janelle Wiley, Mike Weaver and Phil Bieghler.

FOREMEN ASSUME RESPONSIBILITIES

Seven senior boys were chosen as foremen of wood shop this year. The purpose of the boys is to check tools, straighten up the shop, put away the equipment and in general take care of the department.

Edward Burke selected the following boys as foremen: Kent Bragg, Frank Bowman, Bill Circle, Carl Swihart, Paul Reed, Tom Scher and Jim Derr.

Just as factory supervisors in industry need foremen for the efficient operation of the shop, so does the industrial arts teacher need assistants. The boys are appointed on the basis of their grades in shop courses, and each member of the foremen's club at HHS attends a meeting of the Huntington Foremen's Club. The school foremen thereby have an opportunity to meet the real foremen of the shops and factories of Huntington.

Foremen's Club members included Kent Bragg, Frank Bowman, Bill Circle, Carl Swihart, Paul Reed, Tom Scher, and Jim Derr.

BIOLOGY CLUB Officers were John Repp, Patty Jo Thompson, Judy Davis, and Lynn Rickert.

Second row: Rose Paoletto, Dian Roberts, Linda Stahl, Carol Paoletto, Michelle Brinneman, and Linda Smallwood.

Biology Club Highlights Scientific Knowledge

Each third Thursday of the month the Biology Club met and enjoyed programs for the purpose of increasing knowledge and entertainment. Among the topics discussed were snakes, Alaska and New Guinea, as well as plans for the club trip.

Chicago was chosen for this year's annual excursion. The group toured the Museum of Science and Industry.

Officers were John Repp, president; Lynn Rickert, vice-president; Patty Jo Thompson, secretary; Judy Davis, treasurer.

Masque & Gavel Members Improve Techniques

Masque and Gavel Club was open to all who were willing to fulfill the requirements needed to maintain membership by a point system. Participation in speech contests, plays, religious programs and morning announcements were some of the activities in which points could be won.

The officers for 1960-61 were David Lewis, president; Sherril MacDonald, vice-president in charge of religious programs; Don Draper, vice-president in charge of programs; and Hope Helvie, secretary-treasurer.

Camera Club Enjoys "Snappy" Activities

Students interested in learning more about cameras and pictures found enjoyment in the newly formed Camera Club.

One of the club's main projects was processing and selling pictures of football and basketball players. This money was used for refreshments and for the purchase of new equipment for the MODULUS staff.

First row: Carol Paoletto, Mary Ann Eisenhauer, Rose Paoletto. Second row: Mrs. Juanita Young, Lee Trainer, Karen Ackerman, Sherill MacDonald, Ronald Jutton, Allan Miller, David Lewis.

WHISPER STAFF CHRONICLES THE YEAR

Room 302 was the scene of the busy third period journalism class every day. The class wrote and delivered THE WHISPER to HHS each week. In addition, articles written by the staff were sent to THE HERALD PRESS for the student page. This year a special Senior Edition was made and printed. Money was raised by each member for the cost of the printing so that each HHS student could have a free copy.

Judy Stouder served as editor the first semester and Jerome Drew, the second semester. Mrs. Juanita Young sponsored the class.

In the spring the 14 members of the class toured THE HERALD PRESS and the Ft. Wayne NEWS-SENTINEL.

Seated: Darlene Foster, Barbara Eskew, Judy Stouder, Bonnie Anderson, Bill Cotton. Standing: Ann Winegardner, Patty Hestings, David Lewis, Vicki Lootons, Allan Miller, Jerome Drew, Susan Reese, Mrs. Young, Patty Cook, Rose Paoletto.

WVSH awards and letters for the 1960-61 school year included senior pins presented to George Boh, Tom Cussen, John Miller, and Don Warner. Major letters were awarded to David Alexander, Terry Harrell, and Dick Warner; and minor letters were earned by Judy McCammon, Don Dinius, Bill Goshorn, Allan Miller, and Hobart Schacht.

Don Warner serves as engineer as Tom Cussen announces.

W. V. S. H. ACTIVITIES INCREASE DURING THE YEAR

"This is radio station WVSH, the Voice of the Schools of Huntington." That call was sent along the airways from the antenna at the top of HHS many times this year, broadcasting a wide range of educational listening, music, drama, information, news and sports.

During the week-days WVSH, with student announcers and engineers under the direction of McCabe Day, broadcasted a schedule of programming which was used by the Huntington elementary schools as a classroom aid. WVSH also offered complete coverage of the Viking ball games, both home and away.

WVSH had two student teachers during the year. James Bailey, first semester, held a radio workshop on programming; Richard Ward, second semester, organized a radio news workshop.

AUDIO-VISUAL SUPPLIES EDUCATIONAL MATERIAL

Huntington High School's audio-visual department is, as usual, busy supplying teachers with films, records, filmstrips, tape recordings, and even, for a short time at the end of the year, television.

Students serve the center as supervisors each period, getting equipment into rooms each day as needed, and handling film shipments. Every teacher using materials designates one or more operators for each period. These classroom operators pass a test on handling equipment and receive a card before they are supposed to serve in the classroom.

Awards given for audio-visual work this year included four-year pins for Donald Warner and Lynn Rickert, and a three-year pin for Larry Young. Major letters went to Ronald Kistler, Don Chambers, John Kiracofe and Dick Warner. Minor letters were awarded Dennis Daly, Barbara Eskew, Paul Holmes, Sue Mossburg, Jim Telfer, and Andy Weir. Certificates of Service were given Dave Miller, Mike Smith and Jim Wall.

Second row: Leslie Brock, Cheryl Kester, Anita Weir, Ellen Goldenberg, Mary Ann McNamee, Sandee Thompson, Ken Troxell, Janie West, Dierdre Couch, Sue Lewis, Bill Cotton, Becky Dillon, and Bob Slater.
Third row: Carol Woehler, Terry Heck, Tim Hoke, Pat Michael, Don Draper, Jerry Lewis, Edith Janetzke, Jeanine Coleson, Jerry Stanley, Mary Baker, Roger Schenkel, Willard Saufley, and Eldon Van Meter.
Fourth row: John Mason, Charles Dinkler, Steve Dolby Bruce Lemar, Charles Adams, Tom Michael, Taylor Cope, John Kaylor, and Ken Kaylor.

BAND DEVOTES TALENTS TO ENTERTAINMENT

The Huntington High School Band, under the superb direction of Delmar Weesner and his assistant, Norris Huston, completed another successful year. In the spring, the band participated in the state contest winning a superior rating.

While performing throughout the football and basketball seasons, the band, along with the big high-stepping Vikettes, displayed its versatility in the field of pleasing and interesting entertainment. The band also presented an outstanding spring concert.

In the State Band Contest held in South Bend, Huntington placed in the first division out of thirteen class B bands. Several Huntington band members achieved superior ratings in the Solo and Ensemble State Contest in Indianapolis.

Two of the band's outstanding formation performances at football games were "Plane Geometry" and "The Football Coach's Dream." Leading the band through the many formations were the Drum Majors—Don Draper, Tim Hoke, and Judy Rich.

The band's thirty-fifth anniversary performance before the student body and the performances at Rotary and Kiwanis Club meetings were very well received.

The students and faculty of Huntington High School can certainly take pride in the fine leadership and musicianship of our band.

CHOIR IS VERSATILE IN PERFORMANCE

The HHS choir under the very capable guidance of Cloyde Slater completed another successful year of inspirational music. They sang hymns, spirituals and some light numbers.

Twenty members composed this year's Swing Choir, which sang popular tunes for the enjoyment of their audiences.

Mary Ann McNamee, Shari Mueller, Patty Cook, Jane West, Emily Carlson and Mary Ware made up the Girls' Sextette, which received a superior rating at the district and state contests. Huntington High can certainly be very proud of the fine music presented by the choir.

First row: Shari Mueller, Vicki Barnhisel, Marilyn Szelis, Mutsuko Fukuda, Emily Carlson, Mary Jane Hite, Jane West, Mary Ware, Suzanne Wasmuth, Joyce Ackerman, Launa Chambers, Judy Goodrich.

Second row: Becky Dangherty, Mary Carnes, Ann Schaeffer, Sigrid Geesaman, Zoeann Walter, Jo Burkholder, Janet Cook, Patty Weaver, Darlene Aughinbaugh, Patty Cook, Beth Scarbormugh, Sandy Thompson, Myrna Peggs, Jennifer Ware.

Accompanist: Nancy Rodda

The Swing Choir presented a medley of popular songs.
Front row: Vicki Barnhisel, Jerry Lewis, Mary Ware, Robert Slater, and Shari Mueller.
Second row: Charles Evan Lynn, Mary Ann McNamee, Don Draper, Diane Seashols, and Pat Michael.
Third row: Jim Ervin, Janie West, Richard Landis, and Karen Ackerman.

Seated: Anne Meier.
Standing: Ken Kaylor, Martha Anderson, Mary Jo Ridgeway, Leslie Braun, Gary Grimes, and Becky Dillon.

Girls' Sextet members were Mary Ann McNamee, Emily Carlson, Patty Cook, Jane West, Shari Mueller, and Mary Ware. They were accompanied by Cloyde Slater.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY IS ACTIVE THROUGHOUT

The Sunshine Society, sponsored by Miss Alice Kline, and with the motto "Others," carried on many useful projects. Among these was the annual Easter egg sale.

Four committees compose Sunshine Society. They are Social Service Sunbeams, Mary White Guild, Gales and M.M.S., which is made up only of junior and senior girls. The chairman of M.M.S. (Money Making Society), Patty Weaver, and her co-chairman, Sue Slater, worked diligently throughout the year. M.M.S. sponsored the Harvest and Sweetheart dances and other projects.

The officers of Sunshine Society this year were Diane Seashols, president; Penny Glass, vice-president; Dianne Howell, treasurer; connie Shafer, recording secretary; and Patty Altman, corresponding secretary.

Miss Alice Kline, sponsor

Pat Altman, Dianne Howell, Diane Seashols, Penny Glass, and Connie Shafer.

S.S.S. Committee Chairmen were Patty Weaver, Sue Slater, Carol Woehler, and Marilyn Szelis.

F.T.A. OFFERS PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

The Future Teachers of America is an organization composed of future teachers. Sponsored by Leslie Wilbern, the club's aim was to understand the teaching profession through classroom observation and cadet training.

Cadet teachers, who taught in the grade schools, were Gwen Durflinger, Rose Paoletto, Susie Harris, Jerome Drew and Patty Weaver.

Don Warner, Gwen Durflinger, Rose Paoletto, Mary Ann Eisenhauer, Susie Harris, and Patty Weaver.

Third row: Don Draper, Susie Harris, Joe Dolby, Judy Casper, John Brown, Michel Odier, Rick Knop.

JUNIOR RED CROSS RAISES FUNDS

Under the direction of Shari Mueller, who spent eight days at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, learning how to organize a Red Cross Council, and sponsor Dale Ware, the Huntington Chapter of the Junior Red Cross was formed. Some of the projects undertaken were going to the Marion Home and Veterans' Hospital, helping with the Blood Mobile, and raising money for the Red Cross fall drive.

Officers were Shari Mueller, president; Mary Ann Marks, secretary; and Barbara Eskew, treasurer.

BOOSTER CLUB INCREASES ENTHUSIASM

"Back Those Vikes" was again the motto of the HHS Booster Club. This year school spirit was not just a word at HHS, but a complete way of life. The pre-game signs of enthusiasm did much to guide the hard-working Vikings to victory after victory.

Bill Houghton, president; Barbara Eskew, vice-president; Rose Paoletto, secretary-treasurer and Homer Carl, sponsor, deserve much of the credit for encouraging and leading the club.

Rose Paoletto, Bill Houghton, and Barbara Eskew.

CHEERING BLOCK ADDS PEP AND COLOR TO VIKING ATTACKS

"They're our Vikings!" was the proud cry that filled the community Gymnasium at each and every basketball game. Win or lose, those 130 girls were always backing the team one hundred percent.

Every Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 the cheering block met under the guidance of the cheerleaders and Miss Carolyn Reynolds, the block sponsor, for the purpose of planning the strategy for supporting the Vikes.

The white blouses or red and black block shirts of the girls added color to the spectacle of Indiana basketball. At the regional and semi-state basketball games the girls' cheering block was supported by a boys' group wearing white shirts and ties.

Seated: Dian Roberts, Sue Thompson, Jack Jensen, Patty Weaver, Eldon VanMeter and Sherril MacDonald.
Standing: Don Warner, Judy Davis, Diane Hammel, Joe Dolby, Judy Stouder, Darlene Foster and David Lewis.

SENIOR PLAY REVEALS HIDDEN TALENTS

"ROOM FOR THE GROOM" crashes to a climax!

The class of 1961 presented its senior class play, "Room for the Groom," on March 24 and 25, 1961.

The action occurred late in August somewhere in Virginia, and was set in the living room of the Allen home. The Allen family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Allen (Jack Jensen and Suzanne Thompson), two teen-age daughters (Patty Weaver and Judy Stouder) and an eighteen-year-old son (David Lewis).

The humorous situation centered around the marriage and planned elopement of the nineteen-year-old daughter (Patty Weaver). Other characters included an eccentric maiden aunt (Darlene Foster), and orphaned niece (Sherril MacDonald) and the man from City Hall (Donald Warner).

A restaurant deal between the Allen boy and his friend (Joe Dolby) only complicated the situation. The groom (Eldon VanMeter) spent his time searching for a job. When he and his fiancee attempted to elope on Mr. Allen's shaky ladder, the play certainly did crash to a climax!

The play was directed by Homer Carl and Ivan Wilhelm, class sponsor, and Mrs. Bea Patterson.

Rose Paoletto—Senior Play Queen

Wha' hoppen, Dee?

Stage crew and Masters of Ceremonies were the following: Front row: Dian Roberts and Nancy Allen. Second row: John Miller and Sherril MacDonald. Third row: Tom Cussen and Lynn Rickert.

QUEEN CANDIDATES VIE FOR TITLE

Miss Rose Paoletto reigned as 1961 senior play queen. She received this honor by selling, with the help of her sellers, the most tickets to the play. Paul Shelhamer was her escort.

Vicki Barnhisel, escorted by Steve Haton; Carol Fields, escorted by Jim Hunnicutt; Janet Riggers, escorted by Kent Paul; and Patty Jo Thompson, escorted by John Thomas, were Rose's court.

First row: Rose Paoletto, Vicki Barnhisel, and Janet Riggers.
Standing: Carol Fields and Patty Jo Thompson.

COUPLES DANCE IN MISTY HARVEST SPLENDOR

"A Harvest Moon Fantasy" set the scene for the Harvest Dance of the Sunshine Society. The dance took place at the Masonic Temple on November 19, 1960.

Corn shocks, pumpkins, gourds, leaves and the harvest moon, plus the music of John Craig and the Melody Men presented a "Harvest Moon Fantasy" in each couple's mind. Moons and clouds with the names of the couples attending graced the posts, and glittering stars gave the effect of a lowered sky.

The dance, an MMS project, was sponsored by Miss Alice Kline. Patty Weaver, chairman of MMS, and Sue Slater, co-chairman, with the help of Rose Paoletto, Beth Shutt, Mary Ann Eisenhauer, Mary Ann McNamee, Carol Johnson, Jane Underhill and Judy Stouder, as chairmen of the committees, made this dance a cherished memory.

DEEP PURPLE THEME GREETS SWEETHEARTS

A decor of "Deep Purple over sleepy garden walls" highlighted the 25th annual Sweetheart Dance at the Masonic Temple on February 18, 1961. Upon entering the festive room the couples were greeted by chaperons and given a dance program and pencil. Those attending danced to the music of John Craig and his Melody Men under a lowered ceiling of various shades of purple hearts and purple mache birds.

Charles Kaufman served as Masters of Ceremonies, and Dale Ware directed the traditional Grand March. The 144 couples passing through the heart were met by Miss Kay Diffenbaugh and Master Philip Shafer, who distributed two shades of purple birds to determine the lucky couples.

Diane Seashols and Dave Lewis lead the Grand March.

Hawaiian foods were enjoyed by everyone.

Don Draper, John Thomas, Dave Proffitt, and John Repp were the principal speakers.

JUNIORS TREAT SENIORS TO AN EXOTIC RECEPTION

Members of the class of 1961 were honored with a magical trip aboard the "HHS Reception" to the fabulous Waikiki Gardens.

The "HHS Reception" (better known as the HHS cafeteria) was the setting of the banquet given by the junior class. Juniors dressed in Hawaiian clothes served a South Sea menu to the reception guests. Entertainment consisting of a memorable Hawaiian hula dance and music highlighted the dinner. Decorations included Hawaiian dolls and pineapples filled with fruit against a backdrop of a surf.

Many thanks go to the juniors for a fine reception.

FESTIVE HAWAIIAN GARDENS ARE FEATURED AT PROM

A ship's gangplank, palm trees, straw hats and a wooden hut turned the Masonic Temple into the Waikiki Gardens for the Junior-Senior prom. The couples danced to the music of the "Wee Three" trio.

Heads of the committees for the delightful occasion were Barbara Eskew, steering; Kathleen Ade, invitation; Don Draper, entertainment; Mary June Pegan, tickets; Carol Kriegbaum and Hope Helvie, decoration; Judy Thompson, chaperon; Joyce Ackerman, music; Charles Poulson and Lester Palmer, clean-up.

Rounding out a full evening of enjoyment was the post-prom party at the armory.

Western ranch life was the theme of the early morning fun. Red neckerchiefs served as favors, and each couple had their picture taken free. Among the entertainers were a juggler, a trio of players and a professional pickpocket.

All in all everyone seemed to enjoy the party.

This year Huntington High School has lost two outstanding faculty members who have resigned or retired after many years of teaching.

We students and faculty of Huntington High thank Miss Mabel Ellis for her twenty-eight years as both teacher and friend. Miss Ellis has taught social studies and English in addition to serving as a home room sponsor. Her thoughtfulness, sincerity, and fine devotion are deeply appreciated.

Miss Ellis stated that she has enjoyed very much the association she has had with the student body and faculty during the years she has taught at Huntington High School.

We all wish her the best of luck and the best of health for the future.

FACULTY

The Huntington High School student body would like to bestow its sincere appreciation and gratitude on Hugh Brown for his twenty-eight years of service as a teacher and friend.

Mr. Brown served the students as a teacher of industrial arts and as a home room sponsor.

We Huntington High School students wish to thank Mr. Brown for his co-operation, guidance, and devotion throughout his term of service. The best of luck for the future is extended to you.

SUPERINTENDENT

Philip N. Eskew, city school superintendent, found his duties varied and interesting. As the executive officer of the School Board, he was entrusted with the management of the city schools. He worked to see that the schools were run smoothly and high standards were upheld. He was often seen around the high school visiting classes.

In addition to this, Mr. Eskew made some sixty speeches to various organizations throughout the area.

PRINCIPAL

Our principal, Harold S. Johnson, was a very active part of Huntington High School this past year. He had the tasks of making schedules, keeping records, completing reports, attending school activities, conducting teachers' meetings and enforcing rules and regulations. His most important duty was to carry out the school policy and procedure.

Later, as we look back on the year, we shall all remember Mr. Johnson's interest in each student.

School Board members are Max Wiley, Mrs. George Stocksdale, V. P. Caldwell, Mrs. Fred Pence, Milton Marx, and Phil N. Eskew.

The School Board is appointed on a rotating basis for a term of three years by the City Council. The members plan the school finances for the year and supervise the hiring of teachers. Also they assist the superintendent in solving school system problems and making decisions concerning these problems.

1960-61 members were Milton Marx, V. P. Caldwell, Mrs. George Stocksdale, Max Wiley and Mrs. Fred Pence.

CAFETERIA

The credit for providing the student body with a nourishing and well-balanced meal each noon goes to Mrs. Doyle Smith, school dietician, and her efficient staff.

This year everyone was treated to pleasant noontime music, a Student Council project, in the cafeteria.

CUSTODIANS

We wish to express thanks to our fine custodians for the excellent job they have done in keeping our school neat and clean. The custodians were under the supervision of Charles Alexander. Pictured below are Bob Swearer, Bob Pollock, Charles Alexander, Wilbur Rusher, and Charles Thompson.

Whether we have been students at Huntington High for one, two, three, or four years, we can all cherish the friendships we have made there. Time may erase our knowledge of our friends' names, but through this yearbook we can recall the pleasant moments spent in our classes.

Class officers were Patty Jo Thompson, John Thomas, Diane Howell, and Jim Derr.

SENIOR CLASS

Highlights of the year for the class of 1961 were the senior play, parties, football and basketball victories and the election of the class officers: John Thomas, president; Jim Derr, vice-president; Dianne Howell, secretary; Patty Jo Thompson, treasurer.

During Senior Week everyone was invited to various parties. The Junior-Senior Reception with its prom and Post-Prom party climaxed the gala affairs. Commencement on Friday of that week was the end of high school for 163 seniors.

Class sponsors were Ivan Wilhelm and Homer Carl.

Class sponsors Ivan Wilhelm and Homer Carl directed all activities.

Baccalaureate party sets off whirling week of senior capers..

VALEDICTORIAN

David S. Lewis, valedictorian of the class of 1961, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Lewis.

David majored in English, mathematics, science, foreign language, and social studies. For his scholastic achievements he became a member of Junior and Senior Honor Societies and KBF (Kiwanis Builds Forever). He was also a National Merit Scholarship Finalist.

The Huntington Junior Chamber of Commerce awarded Lewis their Junior Citizen Award and Scholarship. David also won the Huntington Elks Scholarship. In Indiana University contests Lewis won bronze and silver medals in Latin and English.

David was an American Field Service exchange student to Norway. In addition he was president of Masque and Gavel, a Junior Rotarian, Modulus staff editor-in-chief and photographer, Whisper staff photographer and columnist, president of the HHS Camera Club. David was also active as a Biology Club member, junior candy seller, student council representative, and senior play cast member.

David plans to attend Purdue University with aeronautical engineering as a major.

SALUTATORIAN

Ann Winegardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Winegardner, is salutatorian of the 1961 graduating class.

Ann had as her majors English, mathematics, science, social studies and foreign languages. She was elected to both the Junior and Senior Honor Societies and was a member of KBF. Ann received an Honorary Special Merit Scholarship to Purdue University and the DAR Good Citizenship Award.

As a junior she was the recipient of two National Science Foundation Scholarships, one to Purdue University and the other to Indiana University. Ann accepted the scholarship to Purdue, participating in an eight-week life science program. She has been active as cheering block member, junior candy seller, Biology Club member, Whisper copy editor and Modulus copy editor.

In the fall of 1961 Ann will attend Purdue University, where she will study biochemistry.

AT HHS ARE VALUABLE LESSONS IN LIFE

JUNIOR CLASS

Money-making projects, including candy selling at football and basketball games, enabled the junior class to make several contributions to the school. Among them were the addition to the concession stand at Kriegbaum field and the typewriter given to the journalism department. The Junior-Senior Reception and prom were also financed by these projects.

Present to help on all occasions were the class sponsors, Richard Goshorn and Charles Kaufman.

Class officers for the year were David Proffitt, president; John Repp, vice-president; Connie Shafer, secretary; and Kathleen Ade, treasurer.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomores, returning to school with a more self-assured attitude, eagerly took part in many school activities. One of the highlights of the year was choosing and receiving class rings.

The class officers were Hobart Schacht, president; Bud Jensen, vice-president; Patty Altman, secretary; and Carol Paoletto, treasurer. Miss Verna Oyer was the class sponsor.

The energetic sophomores' enthusiasm for charity drives was evident when they led all the HHS classes in selling litter bags and peanuts for the polio drive.

Their active year was climaxed by a large potluck supper and party at Memorial Park. Sports activities and a large supply of food helped to make the year-end event a great success.

The sophomores look forward to applying their enthusiasm and talents to the money-making work of junior candy selling.

FRESHMAN CLASS

As the school year closed, they no longer followed upper classmen routines, but made their own way instead. The sophomore year has come, but memories of good times will linger for many years to come.

Class officers were Mike Weaver, president; Mike Shumaker, vice-president; Sandee Thompson, secretary; Phil Bieghler. Sponsor for the year was Miss Jennie B. Wilson.

THE YEAR

The advantages of a teaching career at HHS are obvious each year when the home economics classes serve a tea for their parents and faculty members. During home room periods the students attempt to listen to announcements as they talk and study. A hypnotist entertained the student body by putting Paul Shelhamer into a deep trance. Senior party activities kept all graduates very busy.

Miss Hanson, Mrs. McClure, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Hillegas, Mr. Huston, Miss Ellis, and Mr. Slater are served tea and cookies by home economics students Joyce Lindsay and Zonetta Primmer

IN REVIEW

Who has the ball?

Ready for a Viking victory.

Huntington's American Beauties

Boys watching boys . . . . for a change.

Huntington High's football and track coach, Jerry Huntsman, resigned to join the faculty of Earlham College as its head football coach. Huntsman, very popular with students and faculty, never lost a football game during his two years at HHS. We all wish Huntsman many more perfect seasons and good luck in the future!
